The following is well said: It is upon the issues of the trusts, the greed of corporate power, the worship of the Almighty Dollar, the vicious despotism of the modern spirit of trade expansion, that honest men can join him in a contest which will require the patriotic devotion and service of every one who loves his country and would save his country. The issue of impsrialism is the overshadowing issue of the day. Its success means that this country shall be half republic and half empire. It means that the soldier and not the citizen shall control in the policies of this Government. It is the full flower of Republican theory and Republican purpose. It means that we shall have a great standing army and a great navy, that the poor shall be taxed for the extension of our trade into the islands of the Eastern seas, and, as Mr. Bryan so aptly expressed it, that all the power of our soldiers a. d sailor and marines shall be exerted to the end that the manufacturers of the student and a Eaphradian, in ening United States shall furnish shrouds and coffins for the friendly peoples with whom, is our lust for money, we As Jarl Schurz said in one of his
